

E.H.S Policy

Environmental, Health & Safety Policy

Flowcrete Group Ltd is a leading supplier of specialist flooring systems. Flowcrete prioritizes continuous improvement in the field of environment, health and safety in order to prevent accidents and achieve sustainable development. Important features of environment, health and safety (E.H.S) work include handling of chemicals while manufacturing and dealing with the specialist flooring systems.

Flowcrete Group Ltd strives for:

- A safe and sound working environment in which special priority is assigned to the physical and psychological health of employees.
- Continuous improvements in processes, products and transport to prevent accidents, incidents and risks and minimise their environmental impact. A closed cycle approach and economization of natural resources shall be prioritized. Risks, measures and emergency planning are to be communicated to the general public and authorities.
- Effective management systems for E.H.S issues by including distinct delegation of responsibilities and job specifications. The company operations shall be subject to high standards of health and safety and have a good interior and exterior environment, which is to be achieved through continuous improvements based on new goals and action programs as well as strict follow up work.
- Fulfilling legislated requirements by a broad margin.
- Educating all users how to handle the specialist flooring systems safely and subjecting our partners and suppliers to the same rigorous demands in E.H.S matters as those applied to the company as a whole.

Mark Greaves BA MBA MIOD
Group Managing Director
Flowcrete Group Ltd.