

Servair Opt For Top Flight Floor From Flowcrete

Gourmet airline catering company Servair selected Flowcrete's pioneering hygienic flooring system Flowfresh for its new food preparation facility at Charles De Gaulle Airport in Paris.

Servair, a subsidiary of the Air France/KLM Group, have more than 100 catering units around the world and prepare more than 45 million in-flight meal trays each year.

Flowcrete Flowfresh SR was installed in the washing and food preparation areas, as well as the cold warehouse and finished meal storage unit of the in-flight catering centre, located in Roissy, Paris.

Specially developed for the food and drink industry, Flowfresh SR is a heavy duty system that contains a special additive Polygiene® based on the natural purification element silver.

Locked into the floor finish, this additive, Polygiene® is capable of controlling salmonella, E-coli and many other types of bacteria and yeast on contact – a major step forward in fighting the spread of potentially harmful bugs.

Tony Gear, export director of Flowcrete, said: "The unique hygienic qualities, coupled with tremendous abrasion resistance, slip-resistance and durability, ensure the Flowfresh system measures up to the tough and uncompromising demands of the food sector."

As well as hygienic surfaces Flowcrete offers a complete range of flooring solutions, which have proved popular at international airport environments across the world - from Manchester to Dubai and Luxembourg to Jamaica.

Products include the decorative ultra-fast track floor finish Flowfast, which is ready for use just two hours after installation, as well as the car park decking system Deckshield.

Flowcrete also provides the time-proven Isocrete screeds, which have provided the firm foundations for airport new build and refurbishment projects globally.
